THE REPRESENTATIVE CHANCES.

The representative situation is interesting and growing worse so. "The New Democracy's" nominations have ended; and Mr. Cady's entering the field has brought a new factor in the contest, the importance of which is variously estimated. Many say there can be no doubt about Richmond and Magenis's election; others say that Mr. Cady's chances are good to beat out either of the Republican nominees, both of whom will lack the strength to poll the full party vote.

While no one can tell who will win, the best way to calculate in the case is to consider the election figures for representatives the past few years. Here they are for the three years 1893, 1894 and 1895, in North Adams and Clarkburg, the pres-district.

No. Adams. Clarkburg

1893—C. T. Phelps, Rep., 1,331
S. S. Joy, Rep., 1,151
Wm. O'Brien, Dem., 905
Peter Becker, Dem., 628

1894—C. T. Phelps, Rep., 1,413
Geo. Waterman, R., 1,229
S. S. Joy, Dem., 961
Kean, Dem., 671

1895—C. T. Richey, Rep., 1,236
Geo. Kearn, Rep., 1,241
J. S. Reed, Dem., 1,129
Geo. W. Dem., 622

With Mr. Cady have as large a vote as Mr. Reed had last year, when he came within 136 votes in the present district of defeating the weaker of the Republican candidates? The silver vote he will lose from the Democratic vote that Mr. Reed had. It may amount to 300 or 400, hardly more than that. The rest of his vote must depend on the degree to which Republicans are disgruntled with the Democratic nominations. That there is a good deal of "kicking" it would be foolish to deny. Also Mr. Cady's personal popularity or unpopularity will be a very important factor as was Mr. Reed's. We can hardly figure out a defeat for either of the Republican candidates and we certainly do not want to do so. We do not believe Mr. Cady can make up for the loss of the silver Democrats' vote and draw the 300 or 400 votes more from the Republicans necessary to elect him. A careful study of the above figures will confirm this judgment, we believe.

And after all, no one can do little better than guess. But we do know that the "New Democracy" will not win on the issue of "referendum" and "kick."

A HERO.

A few months after the breaking out of the Cuban revolution of 1898, a plantation home in the little palm-thatched village of Barajagua in western Cuba was desecrated and burned by a foraging troop of Spanish soldiers. The father and older sons of that home had gone with a mule train to a neighboring village on this cruel day, and although in no sense "rebels" against the Spanish government, returned at nightfall to find only a smouldering heap of ashes where once had stood their barns and houses and everything of value carried away. But worse than this. In an adjoining jungle six young boys lay on the ground, bound, bleeding and senseless. The gray-haired mother stood tied to a tree, moaning with a broken arm. Two young girls cowered, weeping and half dead in the bushes.

There were eleven sons in the family of this ruined home, and on the next day after its pillage the heart-broken father called all his boys about him and exacted from each the promise of undying hatred for Spain and a pledge to fight the detested enemy till Cuba was free. Within a few days the father and six of his sons were the fiercest soldiers in the army of the Cuban leader Gomez. Their very names became a terror to the Spanish soldiery. But before the end of the first month the father and three of the boys had given their lives in battle. And when the revolution was brought to an end in 1898, only one of those sons (save an infant brother at home) remained in the field to bear arms. All were dead or crippled save these.

That one was Antonio Maceo, the hero of Cuba. Death had not marked him, though a score of awful wounds marred his body, and the Spanish government was glad to accept the defiant man's proposition that as peace had been declared with no consent of his he would only depart from Cuba if a Spanish gunboat were put at his service. His terms were accepted. He had been Spain's most terrible enemy, and had become the idol of a devoted army of followers.

There came the years of preparation for leadership of the present revolution. For ten years he was a student of the science of war, most of this time at Costa Rica. Early and late he pored over his books, never forgetting his dream of free Cuba nor his hatred for the murderers of his family and the destroyers of his home.

Early in 1879 a brown skinned weather-beaten man arrived in New York city on one of the Jamaican steamers. For a month or more he lived alone, without other companionship than that of books. It was Maceo.

In a few months he made his way to West Point, where he obtained employment as a hostler. Day after day on the parade grounds the tactician learned the evolutions of the cadets, listened to the commands of the officers, studied the discipline of the place, pored over volumes of military tactics that he had managed to borrow, and added to his natural genius the knowledge of other great generals.

Then the dark skinned hostler, who was regarded as book mad, gave up his position and returned to New York. From New York he went to Costa Rica, and especially grinded, shocked and horrified by the "awful crime of 1878" as so luridly depicted daily in the columns of the Atlanta Constitution and other silver organs, I have changed my views on the money question and am ready to maintain the propositions following in joint debate or newspaper controversy.

I accept the arguments of the advocates of silver and agree with their remedy as far as it goes. However, it does not go far enough. Let us have plenty of remedy—in fact, enough to make debt and poverty things of the past—relics of the dark ages. I am in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of pig iron at a ratio of 16 to 1 with gold by the United States alone, independently of all nations, and can prove by the best authority obtainable that such a policy on the part of the United States will "raise prices," "put plenty of money in circulation" and give the "honest debtor a chance to pay his debts," thereby making the whole country prosperous.

Now, in the first place, it may be urged by some "who do not understand the subject of standards of value" that free coinage for iron would not raise its price to a ratio of 16 to 1 with gold. To them I reply that "the stamp of this government" and the "legal tender quality" of the iron dollar would instantly make the bullion value of pig iron the same as the mint value, "for who would part with an ounce of this precious metal for anything less than the mint value?" (Stewart, Jones and Bryan.)

"While the [New] Democratic representative nominees are not as strong as many would like to see, yet there are other things to be considered."—Silver-sage editor. Yes, that platform, for instance, will have to be considered a long time before any one knows what it means. It needs lots of consideration. But what is the matter of Crowley ("Tim") and Wlipse being strong in the triple-plated armor of silver, "reform and referendum." "Tim" is armed to the teeth and is just, etc.

To jump on the "New Democracy" guy further is a good deal like jumping on a corpse. The people's attention being called to that wonderful platform was sufficient to kill all the chances of even making a good bluff. What a farce the "New Democracy" and its platform have been!

Every Republican voter should see that he is registered and attend to seeing that his Republican neighbors are registered. Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, afternoon and evening, will be the last days for getting names on the voters' list.

The crowd in the ranks of the "New Democracy" is the crowd that is "against the government" every time. They make some noise, but they don't count for much. They are a lot of demagogues and but little more.

There is no reason why the Republicans of North Adams should not support their legislative candidates faithfully and loyally. Let it be a Republican victory all along the line.

We hope that the meeting of the state W. C. T. U. convention which begins at Pittsfield Tuesday may be profitable for the great cause in which so many noble women are enlisted.

The "reform" revolution is no longer dangerous. "Referendum" as advanced by men who do not know what referendum means will have to wait.

Every Republican in Northern Berkshire should try to hear Senator Lodge at Odd Fellows' hall Wednesday evening. It is to be a big Republican night.

The "New Democracy" was born up Salt River. It will not have to sail up there.

Mrs Eva Sheldon of East Main street returned Friday from Boston, where she has been studying fancy dances with a private teacher. She will open her dancing school as soon as her business arrangements are completed.

POLITICAL FACTS.

Deeds are facts and are forever and ever. * * * In silver countries, labor is cheap and kept cheap by the silver dollar. For my part I do not want that kind of prosperity. I want a prosperity, which, by good wages to all, is shared by all. We want a broader life broadening every day for all our people.—THOMAS B. REED

CRIME OF '78 OUTDONE.BRYAN ARGUMENTS CARRIED TO AN EXTREMES AND REDUCED TO AN ABSURDITY.

Demoralization of Iron 2,000 Years Ago a Horrible Crime—Indicted Incalculable Loss on Mankind—Invaluable Fall of Prices Can Be Stopped Only by Remonetizing Iron—Our Government Big Enough to Do the Job "Without Waiting for the Aid or Consent of Any Other Nation." Would Give Us High Prices and Plenty of "Per Capita" Money.

The following clever satire on "the crime of '78" and the whole silverite argument was written some time ago by Alex F. Reid of Atlanta, Ga. It is considered so good that some papers have printed it several times, and millions of copies of it are being distributed in pamphlet form:

Having been deeply impressed by the arguments of Judge Crisp, Bryan, Stewart, Jones and other silver leaders, and especially grieved, shocked and horrified by the "awful crime of 1878" as so luridly depicted daily in the columns of the Atlanta Constitution and other silver organs, I have changed my views on the money question and am ready to maintain the propositions following in joint debate or newspaper controversy.

On the dark skinned hostler, who was regarded as book mad, gave up his position and returned to New York. From New York he went to Costa Rica, and especially grinded, shocked and horrified by the "awful crime of 1878" as so luridly depicted daily in the columns of the Atlanta Constitution and other silver organs, I have changed my views on the money question and am ready to maintain the propositions following in joint debate or newspaper controversy.

Today the Spanish government stands ready to give a million pesos for Maceo's head. He has defeated and routed Spain's two ablest generals, Campos and Weyler, till they fear his very name. Today he is fighting Cuba's cause with an army of infant brother of twenty years before, Jose, was in the field within a week and within a month had an army of a thousand soldiers at his command.

In Mexico, where the workingmen are such chumps that they do not know when the value of their dollars is declining, the big employers can keep the country on the silver standard, but even in such backward countries as Chile and British Honduras the wage earners could not be imposed upon forever by silver and other cheap money. No class of citizens rejoiced more than the wage earners when those countries a short time ago stopped "monkeying" with silver and adopted the standard of the civilized world—gold.

Mr. Warner quotes numerous admissions from silverite authorities as to the effect of cheap money on wages. He concludes that "if our wage earners believe they are getting too high wages, and that this country is suffering in consequence, all they have to do is to take lower wages. If they prefer a roundabout way, they can favor free coinage of silver, and they will get their wages cut down half without any further trouble on their part." *

There has never yet been made a law to put into any laboring man's pocket a single dollar that he did not earn. He, of all men, therefore, has the best right to insist that there shall be no law passed that will raise the price of what has to buy, and thus take from him any portion of what he has earned."

Gold coin is the measure of value adopted by the leading nations of the world in which all obligations are finally redeemable.

In order to maintain the ratio of 16 to 1, 16 ounces of silver must be equal to 1 ounce of gold in value.

Whenever a silver dollar cannot be made exchangeable with a gold dollar depreciation and repudiation will begin.

More silver has been forced into the currency by fiftyfold since 1873 than there was for 80 years prior to that date.

The commercial ratio of actual value at which gold and silver can be exchanged is at present 31 ounces of silver to 1 of gold.

Sound money and sound morals are synonymous terms. To pay a dollar's debt with a dollar worth 99 cents is repudiation to the extent of 1 cent.

Mexican dollars have a larger amount of silver than dollars of the United States, yet an American silver dollar backed by a gold standard, can buy two Mexican dollars.

If it were possible for the United States to maintain the parity of silk with gold for ten years, the increased profits of the silver mine owners would amount to more than the entire national debt.

Contracts are often made payable in gold. Why are none made payable in silver? Simply because neither party prefers silver. There is no law against such contracts, but silver is generally considered a unstable measure of values and therefore unfit for this purpose.

The hearing in the case of the De La Vergne Refrigerator Manufacturing company of New York against C. F. Briggs & Co., of this city will be resumed Wednesday at the county commissioners' room, before John F. Nixon as referee.

Cheap Money Means Dear Goods.

Cheap money means dear goods. They as they may, the silverites cannot dodge this simple fact. The free coinage agency would quickly die out if the advocates of the silver standard were honest enough to admit that their scheme would double the cost of everything of the world.

NEEDS MONEY TO CARRY OUT REFORMS

If He Could Follow His Own Desires Turkey Would Be a Happy Country, but He Is Fettered by Empty Public Coffers.—Armenian Question.

(Copyright, 1896, by the United Associated Presses.)

Berlin, Oct. 12.—The hull in the excitement over affairs in the East continues, the newspapers having decided to await the developments which are expected to follow the departure of the czar from France before resuming their campaign of agitation. It is understood that the czar will shortly give an audience to Gen. Grumbkoff, the German officer in the Ottoman service, who is the bearer of an autograph letter from the sultan to the kaiser. Gen. Grumbkoff is accompanied by the sultan's ambassador, Ghail Bey, who will also be received by the kaiser. The mission of Gen. Grumbkoff, according to the semi-official Berlin Post, is one of great political importance. In the meantime an interview with Gen. Grumbkoff appears in a Berlin paper, in which the Turkish commissioner vigorously defends the action of the sultan and the leading Turkish officials, contending that no man occupying the Turkish throne would fulfill the demands of the powers unconditionally. The sultan of Turkey, he maintains, must always take into consideration the probable effect of the fulfillment of such demands upon the Mohammedan populace, otherwise there would be great danger of an outbreak of Moslem fanaticism leading to the total annihilation of the Christians within the empire. "Abdul Hamid," the general says, "is a wise man, and in all his actions he invariably looks carefully forward to the probable or possible results. If the sultan could follow his own desires Turkey would be a happy country, but his most excellent aspirations are fettered by empty public coffers. The true reform which is needed in Turkey is financial assistance; perhaps administered under a control similar to the administration of Egypt, but as there is no money there can be no reform."

The Armenian Question.

The pro-Armenian movement in Germany is making little progress. Although the official wet blanket which has been cast over the movement wherever it has existed has not had the effect to quench the flame of agitation altogether, the movement itself has not been seized with any degree of ardor by the public. Doctor Lepsius, the leader of the Armenian agitation, has been summoned to the foreign office and requested to desist from further activity in the matter, he being informed, it is understood, that as the movement was a strongly political, and in no respect a philanthropic, one the government could not countenance it. The Hamburg Nachrichten, the personal organ of Prince Bismarck, in its discussion of the Armenian question, argues that the Armenians are rebels while Germany and Turkey have the most friendly relations. Therefore the German abiders and abettors of the Armenians are liable to punishment under the German criminal code.

Foreign Diplomats Sanctioned.

The circumstance of the ignoring of the entire diplomatic corps in the matter of extending invitations to the various functions upon the occasion of the czar's visit to Paris, which caused feelings of intense indignation among the diplomats themselves, is being discussed in official quarters here. At the outset of the entertainment of the czar the diplomatic body only received invitations to the gala opera performance and were not asked to be present or any other of the public ceremonies. After all, or nearly all, of those functions were over the diplomats received invitations to attend the grand military review at Châlons and the attacks of the various embassies and legations only obtained these in consequence of the remonstrance made by Count von Münster, the German ambassador, to the foreign office. It is possible that the officials of the foreign office did not furnish the quarter from which the demand for invitations to attend the great military spectacle of the review of the French troops came, for they promptly disclaimed any responsibility for the omission to send invitations and referred the ambassador to the Elysée palace, from which quarter the invitations eventually emanated.

To Return the Czar's Visit.

According to a special dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from St. Petersburg President Faure will not pay a visit to the Russian capital as has been suggested, but Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria will return the czar's visit to Vienna and the emperor and empress of Germany may also visit at St. Petersburg concurrently with the Austrian lâssais.
